Entering Unit Visits:

We enter unit visits at my.scouting.org and the process is very simple.

The screenshot shows the myScouting website's login page. At the top, it says "Welcome to Boy Scouts of America myScouting Tools". Below this is a "Sign In" section with two input fields: "Username" and "Password". A blue arrow points to the "Username" field. To the right of the input fields are buttons for "Sign In", "Create Account", "Forgot Password?", and "Forgot Username?". Below the "Sign In" button, there is a red error message: "The page does not work properly if you don't have the latest version of Google Chrome, Mozilla Firefox, Safari and Microsoft Internet Explorer (v11)." To the right of the login form is a promotional banner for the "2017 NATIONAL JAMBOREE" held from July 19-28, with a "REGISTER NOW AT BSAJAMBOREE.ORG" button.

Enter your user Id and password here. If you have not created one, it can be done by clicking on create account

The screenshot shows the myScouting dashboard. On the left is a "Menu" drop-down menu that is open, showing options like "My Dashboard", "My Inbox", "My Application (0)", and "My Recent Tools". Under "My Recent Tools", "Commissioner Tools (D08 DESERET PEAK DISTRICT D08 - SA22 Service Area 02 SA22)" is highlighted. A blue arrow points to this option. Below the menu is a section titled "Venturing Leader Specific Training Released" with a date of "National 03/02/2016". To the right of the menu is a main content area with a "New to Scouting? Click Here To Take Training" button and a "DONOR LEARN CENTER" section with "CLICK HERE TO ACCESS POSITION SPECIFIC TRAINING" for "CUB SCOUTING" and "VENTURING".

Types of Unit Visits:

There are two types of unit visits, basic and detailed.

The basic unit visit records when you went, the health of the unit and any notes you want to enter.

The detailed requires the same information as the basic visit, in addition it asks for information on leadership, budget and the scouts of the unit.

You can print a check list for both types of unit visits at my.scouting.org.

Discussion topics:

Why do we do unit visits?

How often should be making unit visits?

What do we record?

What are some of your favorite unit visits?

FAMILY INVOLVEMENT IN CUB SCOUTING

We love Cub Scouting for the good it does for the boys. We also know that family really is the greatest influence in a cub scout's life. A well run cub scout program realizes that they need family involvement and at the same time do their best to support the families of the cub scouts. From the Cub Scout Leader Guide: Families play a central role in Cub Scouting, a role that goes far beyond just getting the boys to and from meetings and sewing on patches. At its heart, Cub Scouting is a family program, involving parents and often siblings in most activities. The family is the place boys learn and practice the values of Cub Scouting such as cooperation, faith, honesty, and responsibility. We hope that our programs are providing fun opportunities for the cub scout and his family to work and play together. For more on the family's role in Cub Scouting see pages 63-64 and 157-158 of the Cub Scout Leader Guide.

Using a survey to get to know new cub scout families is a good way to keep track of valuable resources and identify possible help for cub activities. A Family Talent Survey Sheet can be found at www.scouting.org/cubscouts Don't be afraid to encourage your leaders to get to know the parents of their cub scouts. Open, positive communication with parents can only enhance the cub scouts progress in the program and help the parent feel involved and supported. With your leaders brainstorm or discuss how to get parents involved and keep them involved. Start by asking these questions:

"What can we do to involve families in our den meetings?" Get to know them personally, carpooling, emergency 2 deep leadership, share their talents like help with first aide etc.

"What can we do to involve families in our Pack meetings?" Assignments to help with skits or audience participation, serve as greeters, host games, bring refreshments, help decorate, Family yells, have a family pack night, etc.

"What can we do to get family members involved on our committees?" Talk to your COR about family members who could be helpful to fill needs of the committee if they are willing to help.

Song: Scouting is the Best! (Sung to the tune of "Row, Row, Row Your Boat")
